

Calling Fashionistas, Collectors and Investors: Limited Quantity, Jean-Paul Gaultier One-Ounce Gold Bar Offers a Store of Value

Dallas, TX (Jan. 11, 2012)... Dallas-based Dillon Gage Metals is the US dealer for the one-ounce gold bars designed by French couturier Jean-Paul Gaultier, providing a fashionable way for investors to diversify holdings and hedge against inflation. Trendsetter Gaultier is known for his haute couture and fragrances and as a creator of singer Madonna's stage costumes.

"Never before has a fashion icon designed a gold ingot. The Gaultier bar is a one-of-a-kind, limited-quantity collector's piece that not only is a great investment but it will also become a piece of history. The price of gold has risen more than fivefold in the last 10 years, outperforming almost every other investment," says Terry Hanlon, president of Dillon Gage Metals. "The Gaultier one-ounce bar is the perfect Valentines, birthday or graduation gift for someone special, he adds.

One side of the gold bar is engraved with a heart – with Gaultier's trademark sailor stripe – amid radiating rays, and above that is a banner displaying the name Jean-Paul Gaultier.

Gold was worth less than $100 an ounce 40 years ago and has swelled in value since, Hanlon notes. "Gold prices rise over time, making small bars a solid investment for the future," he states.

The Jean-Paul Gaultier bar carries a slight premium because of its unique design and limited mintage. This collector's item can be purchased from Dillon Gage Metals, the sole distributor in the United States, by calling 800-527-7034.

Dillon Gage Metals offers bullion trading, online trading of physical metal and futures, jewelry trading and liquidation, refining services, and rare coins and estate liquidations.
