

Autocar Partners with Pacific Rail

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (March 8, 2017) – Pacific Rail/RMS Intermodal has worked closely with the Autocar terminal tractor team for many years. Together, we have developed an outstanding custom truck to ensure Pacific Rail remains a leader in its industry, improving on productivity, safety and vehicle uptime. These designs have shaped four unique generations of Pacific Rail's specifications, while influencing the Autocar ACTT® terminal tractor's base design as the most reliable terminal tractor on the market.

"Autocar has invested the time and resources to listen to our specific needs and address challenges with collaborative engineering solutions. I look forward to our next Autocar terminal tractor delivery and future partnership." – Ed Morgenthaler, Vice President, Pacific Rail Services.

Pacific Rail Services/RMS Intermodal is a division of SSA Marine, an industry-leading enterprise operating more cargo terminals than any other company in the world. The Californian company provides Railroad Flatcar Bridges, Rail Car Bridges, and information regarding Engineering and Installation.

At Autocar, we're proud to build and engineer terminal tractors that make a difference for our customers. We have developed a first class terminal tractor with new and valuable features which make it the best in safety, productivity, value and overall uptime. We ensure the safety of your operators through our unmatched 360 degree visibility and Autocar's "safety hook system", dramatically reducing traditional risks at the job site. Premium climate control and deluxe cab space provide for a much smoother ride and overall comfortable driving environment, and our extra-strength steel fabricated frame is proven to ensure a safe, long lasting and productive truck life in the toughest environments.
