"Texas Pinner's Conferences offers many Pinterest-inspired classes from talented presenters who love teaching and enjoy the art of creativity," said Roxanne Bennett, co-founder of Pinner's Conference. "We're excited to have them at the expo to share their skills with our guests, who can choose from a plethora of options that feature crafting, fashion, beauty, photography and even food arts. There is something for everyone, including our shopping floor and make-and-takes throughout the event. We're so excited to present Texas Pinner's Conference, and we look forward to everyone experiencing the creative fun."

Texas Pinner's Conference is an annual event combining a uniquely designed tradeshow floor and a shopping conference environment with hundreds of small businesses and classes taught by skilled presenters enthusiastic about sharing their craft. The expo focuses on varying themes, including artistry, crafting, beauty, fashion, photography, food arts, scrapbooking, self-improvement, party-planning, home décor and more. Texas Pinner's attendees will not only have a chance to explore the wonderful goods and services vendors will showcase but participate in vendor demonstrations free-of-charge.

For attendees wanting a more hands on experience, Pinner's offers 100+ hands-on classes and workshops. Classes and workshops are hour-long sessions that require a general admission ticket plus a class registration and can be entirely customized by attendees to create a fun-filled weekend. Some classes require class kits to participate. Class kits contain all the supplies attendees' need to make the craft. Attendees keep their class creations. Class kits range in price from $10 to $45. Many classes can be pre-registered for ahead of Texas Pinner's Conference, and some will be available for purchase at the show.

Attendees with a class ticket are also more than welcome to sit and observe the classes without participation.
